CAPITALISTS GO TO HONOR GRAVES

Annual Pilgrimage of the President of the Milwaukee Road and Brothers Today

PAY RESPECTS TO PARENTS

Five Millionaires Go to the Little Town of Rugby, Wis., to Sit at Grave-side

MILWAUKEE, May 30.—In annual pilgrimage to the graves of their parents, the five Earling brothers, noted railroad men and financiers, met here today and journeyed to Rugby, Wis., near which little village is located the family burial plot. The brothers, who are A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad; Peter R., Chicago capitalist; Emil J., president of the Central Coal company; Jacob, Escanaba, Mich., mine owner, and Herman B., general superintendent of the St. Paul railroad, have assembled on each Memorial day for many years in the quaint little cemetery at Rugby and placed loads of wreaths and flowers on the two silent graves of the father and mother whose memory they tenderly cherish. The pilgrimage as in many years past was made from here in the private car of A. J. Earling, each brother accompanied by his family.

REALTY TRANSFERS LISTED BY THE STATE

MADISON, Wis., May 29.—(Special.)—In a letter sent today to local tax assessors by the state tax commission, they are advised that the commission has a corps of men at work throughout the state in making a list of real estate transfers in each county, "and then correct or throw out dollar considerations, trades, fictitious sales, deals between relatives, etc. The values as finally determined rest upon sales which have been carefully investigated. This letter is written at this time because it is impossible to meet all assessors during the first days of the assessment season, and two cases have been called to our attention where it was necessary to change assessments already made because not up to the full value mark."

MRS. LIZZIE SMITH DIES YESTERDAY

Mrs. Lizzie Smith, 1919 South Sixteenth street, died last evening after an illness of two months' duration. Mrs. Smith was born in Iowa on July 6, 1856, and she was 55 years old. For the last twenty years she has resided in La Crosse, where she is well known. She was taken sick last fall. Surviving her are her mother, Mrs. Ennis; two sisters, Mrs. David Bailey of La Crosse, and Mrs. Thos. Royal of Los Angeles, Cal., and one brother, William Ennis of Hinkley. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of David Bailey, 1116 South Sixth street, with Rev. Longbrake officiating at the services. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

LONG DISTANCE BOAT RACE ON

NEW YORK, May 30.—Five clubs were represented in the long distance motorboat race that started at daylight today from this city to race from here to Albany on the Hudson river and return. They were the New York Motorboat club, the Tappan Zee Motorboat club, the Highland Yacht club, the Newburgh Boat club, and the Poughkeepsie Yacht club. The yachts expected to reach Albany before dark tonight and will lay over there until Sunday, when the return trip will be made.

JAPAN VEXED AT PANAMA BILL

TOKIO, May 30.—Japanese newspapers bitterly criticize the action of the American house of representatives in favoring the free passage through the Panama canal of American vessels. Asahi declares that this discrimination, in addition to being unjust, is in violation of the pledges contained in the Anglo-American treaty dealing with the canal. The newspaper charges that the passage of the bill was due to influence of corrupt politicians who hope to obtain ship subsidies and then establish new lines.

REBELS ATTACK MOROCCO

PARIS, May 30.—The Moroccan rebels about Fez again attacked the city today and were repulsed with heavy native loss of life, despatches say. The sultan, who was said to be very much frightened, was calmed and somewhat reassured by the outcome. La Patrie's correspondent estimated the number of rebels to be 20,000.

HIS COMRADE

LA FOLLETTE TO WAIT ON FARM

Wisconsin Candidate for Presidency to Hear Convention Results at Home

PLAN A FIGHT ON PLATFORM

Badger State Delegation Hope to Have Progressive Measures Incorporated at Chicago

MADISON, Wis., May 30.—(Special.)—Because of the large number of contests over nearly 240 delegates, claimed by both Taft and Roosevelt, to be seated in the Chicago convention, National Committeeman Alfred T. Rogers believes that the period from June 6 to 18 will be practically consumed by the national committee in settling these disputes. Mr. Rogers said that he will go to Chicago on June 6 to be present at all the hearings.

At the capital here it is understood that plans for the progressive platform, which the La Follette forces will attempt to have incorporated, are being drafted to be submitted to Senator La Follette when he concludes his South Dakota campaign on June 4. The La Follette managers are going to make a big fight on the platform, and this time they hope to have many of their measures included. Four years ago the La Follette ideas were turned down by a vote of nearly eight to one.

From information gained from a number of the twenty-six Wisconsin delegates to the republican national convention, it is practically certain that Governor McGovern will be selected as chairman of the delegates. Plans are being made to have Senator La Follette stay at his Maple Bluff home near this city during the convention. As a rule, presidential candidates do not go to the convention city while the meeting is in progress. Senator La Follette could be in close communication with his delegates by telephone at his farm, and at the same time gain a little recreation by looking after his homestead to which he has given scarcely any personal attention for nearly two years.

National Committeeman Rogers said there is an unusual demand for tickets to the convention. A large number of requests from newspapers have been received, and it is unlikely that all can be accommodated. So far as he is able, he and the members of the Wisconsin delegation are attempting to take care of all the requests of those who are anxious to attend the Chicago meeting.

PILGRIMS REACH SHRINE

LONDON, May 30.—The annual pilgrimage to the Shrine at Lourdes left here today, 850 Catholics, many of them so ill they had to be carried

HOLD-UP MAN HELD TO CIRCUIT COURT

Don McDonald, one of the three men who broke into the tower at North Junction Tuesday night when E. A. Bauer notified Grand Crossing of the affair, was arraigned in county court yesterday afternoon and bound over to circuit court on a charge of burglary. He is charged with breaking into a box car. Steve Tode, another one of the trio who broke into the tower, pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny before Judge Brindley and was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail. William Miller, the third member of the gang, was given thirty days for throwing a rock through the window of the North Junction tower.

Two Generations Of Patriots

Who said patriotism is dying out!

Tuesday Judge Edward Cronon, on behalf of the G. A. R., asked that the boys and girls of La Crosse wear little flags in honor of the heroes whose deeds Memorial Day commemorates.

Tuesday afternoon The Tribune wired Chicago for 2,000 little silk flags and announced that they would be given to children free of charge at The Tribune from 4 o'clock Wednesday evening until 12 o'clock today. The flags secured were neat little silk Old Glories for the buttonhole.

At 5:30 last night, just an hour and a half after the first flag was given out, the entire 2,000 silk flags had been given away.

In addition to that, more than 3,000 little cotton flags, the only kind obtainable in La Crosse, had been secured and when the office closed Wednesday night not more than 800 of these remained.

Two thousand more little silk flags were ordered from Chicago last night, but they failed to arrive this morning, and the distribution of the cotton flags had to be continued.

In all The Tribune gave away a total of more than 5,000 little flags in seven hours actual working time, and every one of these flags is today being worn by an American child patriot in honor of those other patriots who with Lincoln and Grant and the God of Battles saved the Union and abolished slavery in '61.

Patriotism—peace-loving but duty-doing patriotism—is marching in the ranks of Childhood's army today, and to the same drum beat echo the scattering footsteps of The Glorious Few—the rear guard of that Grand Army which has nearly effectuated its last Change of Base.

WILBUR WRIGHT DIES IN DAYTON

Inventor of Aeroplane Succumbs to Typhoid Fever at 3:15 O'Clock This Morning

WAS ILL LESS THAN A MONTH

Took to Bed May 4, and Never Arose; Worry Helped to Hasten His Death

DAYTON, O., May 30.—Fighting death with the grim determination and indefatigable energy that characterized his conquest over the air, Wilbur Wright, noted aviator, died of typhoid fever at 3:15 this morning at the family home here. At his bedside were his venerable father, Bishop Milton Wright; sister Katherine and brothers, Orville, Lorin and Rueschlin. Dr. D. B. Conklin also was present when the end came.

On Saturday, May 4, Mr. Wright took to his bed. The case early evidenced the symptoms of typhoid fever in what the doctors declared to be the most virulent form. Recovery was obstructed by intense cerebral activity of the patient, due to his great mental strain incident to planning further developments of the aeroplane, anxiety over the outcome, and labor incident to extensive litigation involving patent rights.

Had Chill

The fever rose to 103, 104, 105 and on last Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, the patient was suddenly plunged into an intense chill when his temperature rose to 106. The cause of the chill is not known, the doctors say. On Monday a slight kidney and bladder complication developed, and threatened much trouble but was partly overcome within twenty-four hours. Wednesday at 5 p. m. Mr. Wright was able to take a proper amount of nourishment for his condition, but his stupor was somewhat greater since the morning chill. He had been unconscious for approximately two weeks and during that period his eyes rolled about as if in a slightly conscious effort to fasten upon members of the family.

The doctors assert that his clean mode of living and consequent rugged constitution, was all that prolonged life.

Worked Five Years Vainly

For five years in Dayton Wilbur and Orville Wright worked to make a machine that would fly. The city of Dayton held their secret because no one thought it was worth giving to the rest of the world. It was in 1903 that the news was carried to Dayton that the Wrights had succeeded in flying at Kittyhawk, N. C. It was in 1908 that it was really impressed upon the world that these

INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR SPEED- WAY, Ind., May 30.—

The drama of speed, with twenty-four of the world's foremost motor car drivers as the players, held sway here today. Seventy-five thousand dollars in prize money was the lure that tempted flesh and steel in the most crucial endurance test ever designed. Five hundred miles over a two and one-half mile brick oval track at a speed faster than that of an express train was the task set.

Eighty thousand tense, nervous, speed frenzied spectators gathered to watch the struggle of the modern mercuries. Two thousand persons were waiting at the Speedway when the gates opened at four o'clock this morning. Many had stayed outside the entrance all night, foregoing sleep that they might secure a better advantage point from which to watch the speed duel. Two hours later hundreds of people were swarming into the stands. By eight o'clock twenty thousand people were in their seats, and the influx had just commenced.

Thousands of Cars

Roads leading to the speedway were crowded with touring cars pouring their quota of humanity into the great enclosure. Dawn was just breaking when many a Hoosier farmer arose from his sleep, scanned the sky for weather prospects, cranked up his machine, and together with his family started for the speedway. Motor car parties from practically every city within a radius of 100 miles of Indianapolis came to see the race. Outside of the state, Denver, Toledo, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Wheeling, W. Va., and Detroit, were the most important cities to send parties.

Guards watched the racing cars all night. The recent injury to Tetzlaff's Fiat by some unknown person placing a steel bolt in the mechanism of the car caused no chances to be taken. The stake of the speed struggle was too great. All of the drivers were on hand at the track early today, and made a thorough examination of their cars in addition to the examination made by the mechanics and their aids.

The racers made their appearance on the track at eight o'clock this morning for the first time since ten o'clock yesterday. The track was kept clear during this time in order that all oil and grease might be removed from the surface, and the possibility of accidents lowered to a minimum. Today gangs of workmen were stationed around the track prepared to sand any place that became slippery and raised the danger of the racing machines skidding.

Expect Records

Many bets were made preceding the start of the race that last year's record of an average speed of 74.61 miles an hour would be broken in today's struggle. The field of starters was fourteen smaller and the quality of the cars was believed to be higher. This, it was argued, raised the chances of last year's record being superseded.

The weather was fair and cool early today. The race drivers expressed the hope that it would remain so throughout the day, saying that such conditions were ideal for high speeding.

AUTOS CARRY VETERANS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 30.—One hundred automobiles carried hundreds of the Civil war veterans in annual parade here today. Hundreds of school children and members of civic and patriotic societies joined in the line of march. The parade followed the annual memorial services for the soldier dead at the National cemetery where 2,300 veterans of the rebellion are buried.

THOUSANDS HONOR THE NATIONS DEAD

Services Held in All Cemeteries This Morning; Thousands of Children in March

SAILORS ARE NOT FORGOTTEN

Flowers Strewn on Water in Honor of the Men Who Died for Country

It was indeed a Grand Army of the Republic affair that fell in behind the aged boys of '61 and marched to the graves of the departed patriots today. Thousands of America's best soldiers—boys and girls of school age—formed the rank and file of a long column that advanced to Oak Grove cemetery at 8:30, and other columns that advanced to the Catholic and Jewish cemeteries at 9 o'clock, there to decorate the graves of Protestant and Catholic, Gentile and Jew—all men and soldiers united in death as in life by a common bond of loyalty to a land for whose freedom and integrity they esteemed life not too high a price.

At 8:30 the committee met at the court house and formed the parade for the procession to Oak Grove. The column was conspicuous by reason of the diminishing number of veterans and the unusual number of children in line, all decorated with little American flags. After the graves were decorated the marching army assembled about "Soldiers' Lot," where Rev. W. P. Christy invoked the Divine blessing. A selection by the band, an address by Rev. Christy, reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address with splendid effect by John M. Holley, Sr., and prayer by Rev. Christy concluded the exercises. Taps, by the band, was followed by the return march to the court house square.

The committee having charge of the ceremonies at the Catholic cemetery assembled at 9 o'clock, and owing to the distance took cars for the grounds.

The exercises here were the same as at Oak Grove. Rev. Father Joseph Reisterer, James Jarvis and A. H. Englehard taking the leading parts. This afternoon's program will take place as follows:

Afternoon Exercises

The procession will form on King street, the right resting on Fifth and will form in the following order: Band, Co. M, Co. B, Wis. N. G., G. A. R., S. W. V., S. of V.

ANDERSON CASE IS DISMISSED BY JUDGE

Declaring that "ulterior motives" prompted the suit of Alex Anderson of Gays Mills against his wife, Dora Anderson, who was arraigned on a statutory charge late yesterday, Judge John Brindley refused to bind Mrs. Anderson over to circuit court and the case was dismissed. The action will be followed by a suit for divorce instituted against Mrs. Anderson by her husband on the grounds of infidelity. He alleges that she has had illicit relations with several men. He names Charles Mitchell of Soldiers Grove and David Mulliken of Belle Center in his complaint. He alleges that Mitchell and his wife came to La Crosse last January and registered at one of the hotels in this city as man and wife. He also accused her of going to Worthington, Prairie du Chien and St. Paul in the company of Mulliken.

SHOWS TO KEEP BOYS ON FARM

Alabama Keeps the People from Migrating to Cities by Series of Lectures at Schools

Free entertainments are given to rural communities in Pike County, Ala., as part of a campaign to induce the people to stay on the land instead of abandoning their farms for city life. This information has been received by the United States Bureau of Education from E. M. Shackelford, principal of the state normal school at Troy, Pike county, Alabama, who is at the head of the movement. Mrs. Shackelford writes: "In my opinion, the exodus of the younger generation from the country to the town is at present the most serious menace to our general welfare. Good roads, motor cars, the telephone, and rural mail delivery are improving rural conditions greatly, but rural social life does not yet afford the opportunities for the commerce of ideas that an active, reading, thinking public demands. Hence the tendency to congregate in the center of population, and hence this effort of ours to afford a few social opportunities through a course of free entertainments."

The entertainments given consist mainly of lectures, "lantern shows," and selections upon the Victrola. Some of the lectures are given at night and some in the afternoon. Occasionally dinner is furnished at the school and an all-day session is held.

While this movement was instituted by the Troy state normal school the co-operation of the Alabama state health and medical departments and the various state institutions has been enlisted for supplying speakers, entertainment clubs, and other attractions. Most of the entertainers give their services without charge, and transportation is furnished by owners of automobiles. Friends of the new movement anticipate that it will be a powerful factor wherever introduced in adding to the pleasures of rural life by furnishing additional opportunities to the country folk for recreation, culture, and social intercourse.

BAILEY FACTION LOSES IN TEXAS

HOUSTON, Texas, May 30.—When the democratic state convention met here at noon today it was certain there would be no change in the program which calls for the 32 state delegates and eight delegates at large to Baltimore being instructed for Governor Wilson.

The rout of the Bailey faction in the party is complete. A caucus of Wilson supporters drew up the list of eight delegates at large to be named. Senator Charles A. B. Culberson heads the list.

TO CHECK MISUSE OF FARM LANDS

Organized Efforts Against Depletion by Tenancy System Given Unexpected Spur

CANADA BIDS FOR RENTERS

Railway Proposes to Back Farmers with Loans to Put Them on Their Feet

CHICAGO, May 30.—The robbing of farms of their fertility as a result of the renting of half of the farms in the United States is likely to be checked next year, for in Chicago alone several organized efforts are being made in that direction which were given point by an open bid of a railway for the best of the tenant farmers, mainly because renters form such a major part of the farmers of the country. The result seems certain to be the beginning of a reform.

"The greatest curse of our land today is the year to year tenant," is the declaration of Bert Ball of the crop improvement committee of the national council of grain exchanges. He added: "However, it is not altogether the tenant who is to blame. A very large proportion of the tillable land is owned in the cities and it is this land which is pulling down our average while it is being robbed of its fertility."

Various proposals have been made including the enactment of laws prohibiting the ruthless cropping of land without fertilization. But all of the calculations have been upset by the announcement by a railway of a fund which in a few years will be five million dollars per annum to be loaned in sums of $2,000 to $2,500 to the renter who has a start and a record of good farming. This opportunity to become land owners, it is believed, will attract thousands of the better class of renters to Canada. Upon the question whether the owners will take charge of their farms or accept a less satisfactory class of tenants the result of this announcement will depend.

"Over half of the tillable land in the central states is owned by persons residing in towns or cities who allow their year to year tenants to skin the land," declared Clarence A. Shamel, editor of the Orange Judd Farmer. "The year to year tenant is the greatest curse that agriculture has. In spite of the work which is being done by the colleges and by other mediums the yield per annum is gradually decreasing and the only remedy is to make a contract requiring the owner of the land to furnish whatever elements are removed by the crops and to require the tenant to do the necessary things to add fertility to the acres which constantly are depleted. You cannot expect a man who may leave the land next year to build up the fertility of another man's farm."

As a remedy a long term lease has been advocated in which additional safeguards shall be required of the tenant.

There are thousands of acres in every county in the United States which are owned by bankers, businessmen and retired farmers who by short-sighted stinginess are ruining their land. There is a certain type of farmer who moves to the town or city who feels that he must make hard sledding for his renters in order to get even with the world. Canada's new bait for renting farmers has aroused indignation among land owners but they have received cold comfort from the universities and other agencies which have been sounding the alarm regarding the tenancy system.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves; and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

CHICAGO PEOPLE FREQUENT MOVERS

CHICAGO, May 30.—Directory makers are overwhelmed by the changes of address this spring and not only in Chicago where every seventh person shifted to another number but in nearly every town and city for which directories are published. The enormous business for the van men has involved serious perplexities for many other lines of business, not excepting the merchant with open accounts on his ledger. "TIZ makes me feel like a boy again. Nothing would hurt my feet in those days, even when I'd run around barefooted with Rover, over rocks and pebbles and sticks."

"What You Think About Grampa?"

"To be able now to have feet that never ache, never get tired, blistered, swollen or chafed, or have corns, callouses or bunions, is a glorious recompense for all the other aches and pains one suffers in the winter of life. TIZ makes the feet feel young, and young feet make you feel young all over."

"I've tried many things for my poor old tired feet, for those bunions of 20 years, and for those corns that have added wrinkles to my face. I've tried plasters, powders and salves—and nothing has ever given the relief that TIZ has. My feet are now strong and vigorous, they never get tired or swollen, I have no corns, callouses or bunions any more—they are boy's feet on an old man!"

TIZ gives instant relief and cures all foot troubles. It operates on a new principle, draws out all the poisonous exudations that cause foot miseries.

TRAINING GIVEN IN LIFE WORKS

Flat, Machine-shop and Business School Are the Newest Educational Novelties

ALSO TEACH HOUSEKEEPING

Girls Are Taught How to Care for Home and All Housewifely Duties by Instructors

A five-room model flat, a machine shop, and a school of business are some of the features incorporated in a public high school just opened in Newark, N. J., for the purpose of preparing girls and boys to be good wives, good workmen, and good clerks.

The model flat, containing dining room, pantries, bedroom, and bathroom, in addition to the school kitchen, provides practical problems in housekeeping for the girls, who also receive instruction in other branches of housewifery, such as sewing, millinery, home sanitation, nursing, cooking and like subjects. The machine shop, one hundred feet long, is maintained in connection with the course in manual training. In addition to machine shop work, manual training course also gives the high school boys the chance to learn forge work, pattern making and sheet metal work. Preparation for such occupations as joinery, wood turning, and free hand and machine drawing is also provided.

As the school generates its own light and power, it is likewise enabled to give instruction in the handicrafts which pertain to these branches. In order to use this plant for instruction purposes, a special test room has been provided.

In the business school, courses in business practice and typewriting are offered. All these courses in housekeeping, handicrafts, and commerce are in addition to the regular English high school work.

The school plant provided for this work embodies a number of features which the experts of the United States Bureau of Education are observing with attention. The general plan of the building, whose eighty rooms will accommodate 1,200 children, is a hollow square. On the first floor level there is a large auditorium, extending through the second story, with an arcade on each side which permits the second story corridors to serve as galleries in case of an overflow. The auditorium is lighted from above by an open court.

The roof, covered with flat tiles, has been adapted for use as an exercise ground. There is also a complete gymnasium, 80 feet square. Teachers' room, as well as rest rooms for the accommodation of all, have been provided.

A room specially fitted for the teaching of music is located between the two lunch rooms, thus isolating it from all the other classrooms in the building, while at the same time allowing the privileges of music during the lunch hour.

The building, four stories high, rises to a height of nearly 100 feet above street level. It is fireproofed throughout. The Collegiate Gothic style, executed in brick with terracotta trimmings, was adopted for the exterior. The interior of the auditorium is Elizabethan.

The erection of this building, just opened under the name of Central Commercial and Manual Training High school, marks the latest step in a progressive building campaign, begun by Newark four years ago, and under which nineteen school buildings have been put up in the last four years. These nineteen buildings have cost $2,700,000, of which $560,000 has been spent for the new Central Commercial and Manual Training High school alone. This high school, together with another opened a year ago, has considerably more than doubled the high school accommodations of Newark within a twelve month.

LOS ANGELES GIRL WHO WED RICH MAN TO REFORM HIM PENNILESS IN CHICAGO

Mrs. Ruth Saunders.

The story of a girl who believed her love would reform a man came to light recently in Chicago when Leonidas B. Saunders, son of a wealthy lawyer and broker of Los Angeles, was arrested in Chicago for passing worthless checks, leaving his eighteen-year-old bride, also of Los Angeles, penniless in a strange city. The wife told the old story of a girl wedding a man to reform him. His great weakness is a love of liquor. "The police say I ought to leave after this," she declared now. "I do hope they will do something for him to cure him of drinking."

CONFESSES TO ARSON

MADISON, Wis., May 30.—(Special.)—The state fire marshal's office has received word that Louis Germanos, a Syrian of Beloit, had confessed to State Fire Marshal T. M. Purcell that he had fired his "candy kitchen" in order to get the insurance, which had been increased from $4,000 to $5,000 in the interval between two fires in one week. The first fire had been put out before any damage was done. In the Beloit municipal court Germanos received a sentence of two years at the state reformatory at Green Bay. He is 2 years old, and had been in business three months.

OLD GLORY TOKEN OF IMMORTALITY

The old soldier is marching away
to bivouac on the Everlasting Camping Ground. Not on the battlefield,
but in Peaceful Valley, for there are no armaments Over There.

Time has not spared us. The Spanish war soldiers are getting gray;
the Sons of Veterans are old men
now. There remain with us today
but a few hardy remnants of the G.
A. R.

So few in number are these survivors of our greatest war that it has been decided to cease Decoration Day
organization as impractical. The age of the war heroes and their limited
numbers, makes the task a burden.

So they have turned the management of Decoration day celebrations
over to the Spanish veterans and Sons of Veterans. The civil war veterans will participate, but they will leave the work to their sons.

In doing this they have made to the school children a request embodying a beautiful sentiment. It is that on Decoration day the children
wear a little flag in hat or buttonhole. This flag is to typify the G.
A. R. The veterans hope that, after the last man of them has been "mustered out," when their ranks have ceased to obey the military command, there will march on and on,
upon Decoration day in all the years
to come, a great and growing army
of young people each bearing Old Glory as a token that the achievements of the men who fought that
"government of the people, by the people and for the people, might not perish from the earth," are as immortal as the souls of those who went to death in The Wilderness.

It is a splendid idea, The Tribune believes. Indeed, so appropriate did
it seem to us that we have procured
hundreds of little silk flags, and have given them to boys and girls to wear
on this Day of Memories, just as the Old Soldiers wanted them to do. May they wear them next year also, and
the next; and may their children after them wear these little flags, and their children's children. Thus, while Freedom holds her sway, may the spirit of the Grand Army of the Republic go marching on.

FLOCKING TO
THE ARMY
When the United States is at peace
with all the world and there is no
cloud on our national horizon, securing recruits for the regular vacancies that occur in the army because of expiration of enlistments is not a job to be envied. Posters, billboards, newspaper advertising are resorted to in an effort to get young
men to see the desirability of serving Uncle Sam. When there is the faintest suspicion that this country
may get into a fuss, however, some instinct draws eligible to the recruiting offices. Where only dozens applied before scores and hundreds appear. They seem, like the famous warhorse, to "smell the battle from afar."

The present tense situation with Mexico is having this effect. Army recruits are easy to get. The offices in the big cities are busy passing on physical qualifications of applicants
for the job of shooting and being shot at. The fact that this is so is sufficient answer to the oft-repeated
charge that we are not a military nation. The truth is that we are not military as the Germans are military—all the time. It requires some issue or impending crisis to reveal the fighting spirit. But the fighting spirit is there all the time, slumber-
ing.

A hint of war draws first the adventurers, the men who have nothing to lose by enlisting. Even in our peaceful, humdrum day there are plenty of these, farmer boys dreaming of the big world while they follow the plow, clerks whose young
blood rebels against the routine of
office and store, ne'er do wells, drifters or men out of work. These are ready to enlist on the mere guess
that there may be "something doing." An actual declaration of war
calls the young single men of higher grade. A prolonged war in which the outcome hangs in the balance is necessary to get the married men
with families to the front. Actual war always furnishes its surprises.
The quiet men who take great pains
to avoid a quarrel often are the readiest to shoulder a rifle when it becomes really necessary. The big,
husky blusters have been known to leave the country rather than enlist.
Men are stripped of their external trappings and stand revealed for what they are. Americans refuse to be belligerent except when there is fighting to do and they hope for the day when there will be no need for belligerency.

EAT THE PESTS THEY'RE "BULLY"

"Eat Sparrows; when boned, broiled, buttered and served on toast they
they are as fine as quail."

This is the latest advice of Uncle
Sam to help his nephews and nieces
reduce the high cost of living.

The department of agriculture issued a comprehensive pamphlet on the English sparrow, condemning
him as a harmful pest, and concluding with a number of recipes of his preparation for the kitchen. Most of the pamphlet is devoted to demonstrating the harmfulness of the sparrow and telling how to kill them.

Woman's proper place, says a Japanese countess now traveling in this

from her proper place.

President Taft below the belt as he claims. There is surely enough of General Sherman's famous remark

might also be extended to include politics.

One Didn't Count
Mayor Blankenburg, at a dinner in Philadelphia, praised the Quaker
City ardently.

"I must even praise," he said with a smile, "our exclusiveness—we carry it so far, you know. Birth is not enough with us; residence is equally important, and they who live about Market street are doomed. Here,
surely, is exclusiveness with a vengeance."

"They tell a story about a dinner
in Rittenhouse square. At this dinner, as the fish course began, one
woman whispered to another:

"Dear me, there are thirteen at table."

"B't the other woman smiled and
answered calmly:

"Compose yourself, my dear Mrs.
Cabbiddeleer Waddle. Mrs. North-Broad is not really one of us. She lives up town, you know."—Exchange.

When He Popped
I asked her if she'd be my wife;
She answered with much glee:
"You first must go and ask my pop.
Before I will agree."

I went and did as she had said—
I faced him after tea;
I was quite bold as I popped pop,
But not when pop popped me.

HOLD BACK LABOR LAW

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Following the lead of Senator Hoke Smith
of Georgia, taken against the work-
men's compensation bill on the senate floor, Georgia congressmen today
lined up against any action on the measure in the house judiciary committee. Representative Hardwick of Georgia, with Representative of Tex-

ment of any consideration of the measure until Saturday.

The Yellow Letter

A FASCINATING
MYSTERY STORY.

BY WILLIAM
JOHNSTON.

Copyright 1911—The Robbs-Merrill Co.

"but what will I do with them warrants?"

"Leave them with me. After you have disposed of Rouser's body
you can stop on your way back and we'll take this one with us. Come
on outside, Dods, and you, too, Crandall, I want to ask you some questions about our friend over there. You, Kent, stay here with Miss Farrish.

The three of them went out, leaving Louise and me together, a circumstance that I couldn't doubt that Davis had planned, realizing that there was much we would say to each other. Hardly were they out of the door before Louise turned to me, with suppliant arms, and cried
out, with a sob in her voice: "Harding, forgive me for having deceived
you."

"It is you," I cried, "you who must forgive me for having disobeyed
your wish, for having come out
here after you had asked me not to,
for having almost put a bullet
through your dear heart."

"You didn't know—you couldn't know that I was here," she sobbed.
"But how can you ever pardon the lies I told you?"

"Lies," I protested. "Dear girl,
you never lied to me. Whatever these dear lips have said, I knew, I always knew your heart was true."

"Katharine asked it and I had to promise her."

"You mean about Hugh Crandall?"

"Yes," she breathed. "I don't know yet what it is that is between them. It's something about—about my father. Crandall knew it, and Katharine found it out. Whatever it is, they determined to keep it secret between them. Katharine made me promise that I would tell
no one, not even you. She swore me not to reveal to any one that I had even seen Hugh Crandall. I had to promise here, you understand, don't
you?"

My answer was a kiss full on her lips, while my arms went about her
and held her tight to me.

"Of course, dear girl," I breathed, "I understand. I understood all the while."

As our lips met in a long, sweet
kiss, a wave of joy swept over me
that all but obliterated thoughts of the dreadful yellow letter. I forgot
for the moment the drug-sodden
creature lying in the corner, not twenty feet away from us. I knew
but one thing, Louise loved me.
What mattered anything? In the rhapsody, that only those who have loved can understand, we held each other in close embrace in a delightful silence—it may have been for one minute—it may have been for ten or twenty. Time for either of us had lost its power. We were the world, just we ourselves.

The spell was broken by a light
twinking of the man across the room. We came to ourselves with a start as from a dream. I went over to his side and looked at him.
He was still dead to all around him.

"You understand, Harding, don't you?" said Louise, as I resumed my place beside her, "why I asked you to drop your search. As soon as Katharine became conscious and I told her that you were on the trail
of the yellow letter, she became greatly excited. She insisted that I should make you withdraw at once.
She was determined to know all
about what you had done, and I told her of your being here in Ard-
way. She, weak and ill as she was,
made me swear that I would recall
you by telephone. She wanted me to

Another White Hope

News Comment: New York:
R. J. Cumisky, former trainer
of Jack Johnson, alleges that while riding in Johnson's car
on July 17, 1910, he was thrown to the street, owing to Johnson's reckless driving and that he sustained $5,000 worth of injuries.

This just goes to show that carelessness in anything does not pay. That is why we are so exacting in our demands
that every garment that comes
into this house must be right
in every detail of style, workmanship and quality.

telephone to Hugh Crandall, too,
but I did not know how to reach
him. I had to promise her everything she asked."

"Of course you did," I said. "But,
dear, I loved you so that I could not
rest while this terrible mystery
that hung over your dear ones was unsolved. I felt that it was my duty to disregard your wish. I realized that you were being compelled
by some influence you could not withstand to act as you did. You are not angry with me, are you,
dearest?"

"Of course I'm not," she said,
with a wan smile, patting my hand
gently.

"But tell me," I asked, "what of Hugh Crandall? What is his connection with this dreadful mystery?"

"I don't know," she answered
thoughtfully.

"I have thought all along that he had something to do with it; you
saw just now that he admitted
knowing this man here whom the inspector insists is at the root of everything."

"Katharine trusts him, yet I know my father for some reason
forbade him the house."

"I'm sure he is guilty," I cried.
"Katharine's eyes have been blind-
ed by love to his real nature."

"I think you must be mistaken,"
said Louise. "He knows about the existence of a paper that gave some
man a strange hold on my father.
Katharine knew of it, too. He may have told her. She insisted on my accompanying him out here to try
to help recover it."

"Didn't he tell you about it on the way out?"

"No, I asked him what it was. He told me that too many people knew its contents now. The more I think about it the more perplexed I am
about the mysterious manner in which both he and Katharine acted
about this document."

"Tell me everything," I insisted,
all my suspicions against Crandall
returning anew.

"To begin with, he insisted on our leaving the chauffeur in Newark, though it had been my intention to have him come with us.
Crandall would not hear of it.
"Katharine put you in my charge,"
he said, "and it is her wish as well
as my own that we take every precaution for secrecy. It is better that only you and I go on this mission.

We want no servant gossiping about this matter." But where are we going, and why? I asked him. "Surely I have a right to know that." "We are going to try to recover from
the hands of the wickedest black-
guard on earth a certain document
that has come into his possession.
It is a question whether or not we shall succeed. If we do, I shall put this document in your hands and
you must promise that it shall not go out of your possession until you
have placed it in your sister's hands.
You must promise me, too, that you will ask no questions about it and that you will not read it. When Katharine has seen it, do with it
whatever she tells you. She probably will say that you are to burn
it without reading."

BOOSTERS RAP EXTRA SESSION

MANKATO, Minn., May 30.—The executive board of the Southern Minnesota Better Development
league, in session here Monday
evening, passed resolutions condemning a special session of the legislature, copies of which will be sent to state senators and representatives. It was the sense of the meeting that no "extraordinary occasion" for such a session exists,
and the committee went on record
as favoring an immediate adjournment of the lawmakers June 4, or at least confining themselves to the enactment of a primary election law
and a corrupt practices act, leaving
re-apportionment out of their deliberations. The board fears the unlimited power of legislation
granted by the call.

will be called at 10:30 o'clock. The afternoon game will be begun at

High Cost of Eating

After his brother had been in New York a little more than a year, a Kentuckian decided to pay him a vis-
it. Hoping to surprise his brother,
the Kentuckian did not apprise his brother of his intentions. Arriving at 9 o'clock in the morning, he asked to be directed to a good eating house. The taxicab pilot steered his

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Jim

We never counted much on Jim
around the village, cuz
There wasn't no git up to him, his relatives all wuz Jest sort o' shamed to speak about
the way he loafed around.
We knew him as a lazy lout, who
jest laid on the ground
And dreamed and dreamed the hours away. They couldn't make him work.
While others drilled ten hours a day,
his stunt was jest to shirk.
The village folks looked down on
him in sort o' scornful style.
Because he didn't have no vim. But Jim would only smile,
And keep on dreaming right along,
pre-occupied his air.

He'd listen to the bluejay's song and
stare and stare and stare.
He didn't mingle much, did Jim, but
read an awful lot.
The other boys got up at five and
earned six plunks a week.
But Jim, he wasn't scarce alive, a sort of village freak.

One day he got an envelope from Washington, by jing!
His breast filled with a sudden hope,
because, you see, the thing

My friend, the next time you buy a Suit of Clothes, I want you to let me show you the Blue Serge Suit that we are offering at $18, made of the American Woolen Co.'s No. 1620 Puritan Blue Serge.

Puritan 1620 Serge has that inimitable look and feel and draping quality that mark the true style fabric.

It's a beautiful shade, an unusual blue—you'll like it as soon as you see it. It is pure wool, through and through, and honestly made. That's why it serves its time in a suit and still keeps that smart, thoroughbred appearance.

This is the quality that you will find in our Blue Serge Suits at $18.00.

Industrious Malaysians.

The following interesting information is taken from a report made by Walter D. Scott, British agent in Trengganu: The hand loom is found in every house and the women weave beautiful silk and cotton sarongs. Throughout the peninsula the men are famed as the best boat builders, and they are clever and efficient workers in iron, brass and nickel.

Have an Ideal.

If our minds are resolutely set on an ideal good, and if we follow this with an inflexible patience and persistence, then, though we may often blunder in our choice of ways and means, somehow the grace and sweetness of our inner life will pass into our children's hearts.—J. W. Chadwick.

TRIBUNE FLAGS ARE WORN BY COMPANY

Tribune flags will be very much in evidence at the special holiday matinee of "Merry Mary," to be given at the Majestic theater this afternoon. Each member of the company has been given one of the little silk emblems, and each will wear it conspicuously. It is expected by the management that the three performances of this rapid-fire musical show which has gone like wildfire in La Crosse, will draw enormous houses today. At an early hour there was a big demand for seats, and as noon approached it appeared that the "standing room only" sign would be seen in the lobby. Two performances, to take care of those who cannot get into the first show, will be given. The first show this evening starts at 7:45, the second at 9 o'clock.

RUNAWAY HORSES AT PRAYER MEETING

NEENAH, Wis., May 30.—A prayer meeting in the Methodist church at Waukan, near here, was interrupted in a startling manner on Wednesday night. A runaway team dashed up the steps of the church, crashed through the doors and knocked down two users. The pastor's address stopped abruptly. He ran down the aisle and stopped the horses just before they reached the pulpit. More than a score of men and women were in the church, and the sudden end to the peaceful meeting caused great excitement.

What Dress is to Woman.

Fashion is woman's literature. Dress is the expression of her personal style. By dress she conveys the outward expression of her taste, of her skill, and even of her aesthetic individuality. It is thus that she contrives to charm the eyes of the arts, the art containing all the others. It is not the expression of her characteristic style, as we have said, but it is her palette, her poem, her theatrical setting, her song of triumph.

The Way to Meet Work.

The beauty of work depends upon the way we meet it—whether we arm ourselves each morning to attack it as an enemy that must be vanquished before night comes, or whether we open our eyes with the sunrise to welcome it as an approaching friend who will keep us delightful company all day, and who will make us feel at evening that the day was well worth its fatigues.—Lucy Larcom.

The Retreat From Moscow.

Napoleon's army for the invasion of Russia numbered 650,000. Only twenty thousand returned. During the retreat thousands of horses lay groaning on the route, while thousands of naked wretches were wandering like specters, who seemed to have no sight or sense, and who only kept reeling on till frost, famine or the Cossack lance put an end to their power of motion.

HOUSER SCORES TAFT AND TEDDY

Says Their Campaign Is a Coarse Personal Quarrel Which Dodges the Issue

ROLL CALL ON THE COLONEL

Shows T. R. Was Until Recently Opposed to Measures He Now Loudly Praises

MADISON, Wis., May 30.—Branding the Taft-Roosevelt campaign as a "coarse personal quarrel," Walter L. Houser, campaign manager for Senator La Follette, issued a statement to the voters of South Dakota in La Follette's Weekly today in which he says that neither of the other candidates is shown by his record to be progressive.

"Whatever grounds of differences of opinion may have existed a few weeks ago on this subject, the character of the Taft-Roosevelt campaign now being conducted can leave no room for difference of opinion among loyal progressive republicans," declares Mr. Houser. "That the unimportant personal differences of Taft and Roosevelt should take the place of serious discussion of those great questions which must be settled during the term of the next president is not only making us the laughing stock of the rest of the civilized world, but is doing incalculable harm to our own people."

Mr. Houser's statement is a typical La Follette roll call on Colonel Roosevelt. Quoting from Roosevelt's essays and state papers, Mr. Houser seeks to show that until recently Colonel Roosevelt was opposed to direct primaries, initiative and referendum. He cites the fact that when Oklahoma sought admission to the union in 1907, Colonel Roosevelt, then president, opposed its radical constitution containing the initiative, referendum and recall, and sent Secretary Taft, now president, to that state to oppose it. Houser says that the foisting of Taft upon the people by Colonel Roosevelt, "as both he and Taft now admit was done, must always stand as a complete refutation of the claim that he believes in the real rule of the people."

Turning to the tariff, Mr. Houser declares that Colonel Roosevelt editorially endorsed the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and shows from Roosevelt's speeches, he claims that the colonel stood for Canadian reciprocity. He asserts that Roosevelt claims Canadian reciprocity is a dead issue, but that recently completely reversed this stand because of public clamor.

ORIGIN OF A POPULAR DOG

Ancestors of the Scottish Terrier Were Used by the "Tudhnters" of the Highlands.

In ancient times each district in the Highlands had its "tudhunter," whose duty it was to see carefully that the then flourishing firm of fox, otter and company did not do a too flourishing business in lamb or poultry. Sometimes these tudhunters were of "the laird's men," sometimes they were farmers and graziers; but always they were local dignitaries. There was honor and considerable profit in their office, and in time it came to be more or less hereditary. Their duty was simple. They waged a war of extermination against the vermin, which, however, was a very different matter from the good old English sport of fox hunting.

In the rough country horse and hound would have been worse than useless, and reynard made his den in such rocky ground that he could not be dug out. The sole solution was a dog small enough to follow the fox, or otter, or badger, or wildcat into his lair; strong enough to bring him out dead or alive; and game enough to do both. A dog developed from this necessity, and that dog was the ancestor of the present-day Scottish terrier.—Outing.

PLEADS SUFFERING AS CAUSE OF LAW

The needs of 200,000 persons made homeless and destitute by floods will be urged as ample reason for the preventive measure of Senator Newlands in his recent amendment to the rivers and harbors bill, appropriating $5,000,000 a year for the control and regulation of the Mississippi river and its tributaries, and $50,000,000 a year after the completion of the Panama canal. It is the contention of the advocates of this measure that if it passed and put into effect the Mississippi and tributaries can be controlled and the government may not again be called upon to feed and care for thousands of victims of the action of the rivers as in the present case.

Herring on Maine Coast.

It is now fully evident that no more herring will be caught on the Maine coast until spring. There have been practically none landed within the last three weeks, but the recent snow will stop any that might be along this way.

It is a singular fact, but the herring are not found after there has been a good fall of snow. It is reasoned that the snow causes the feed to sink and so the small fish do not show themselves on the surface after it has fallen into the water.—Portland Press.

MUD BLOCKS ARREST

NORTH DAKOTA MAN WITH LITIGATION RECORD THOUGHT TO BE DELAYED IN THE COUNTRY

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., May 30.—

With a warrant out for his arrest for running a nuisance, a temporary injunction issued by the district court declaring the electric light plant a nuisance; an action for a permanent injunction pending in the district court; a new ordinance just in effect and to be fought cutting the electric light rate in Devils Lake; a $32,000 bond issue for a municipal electric lighting plant tied up in litigation; with a $1,500 personal injury suit awaiting trial, and a second civil action on the court calendar, Colonel A. B. Kerlin, president of the Devils Lake Improvement company, spent Sunday and Monday with his new automobile tied up in the mud somewhere in the country, while Sheriff McLean awaited his return.

From a standpoint of litigation, Colonel Kerlin, the local light, telephone and water magnate, now holds all records, it is claimed. The crisis came Monday and Tuesday, while he was in the country, believed to be stuck in the mud, when a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, charging that he maintained a common nuisance in the form of a noisy gas engine in the center of the city.

This was followed in rapid succession by a temporary injunction issued from the district court, on application of Silver Serungard, who alleges that the running of the plant is a detriment to the residents of that portion of the city near the plant.

The Power of the Press.

A newspaper can drop the same thought into a thousand minds at the same moment. A newspaper is an adviser who does not require to be sought, but comes to you briefly every day of common weal, without extracting your private affairs. Women Students in Berlin.
The educational statistics of Berlin show that the number of women students is increasing there. The theological department alone shows a falling off, there being only one woman registered, while there were several last year. Besides the 258 women who attend lectures without matriculating, there are 12 women in the school of jurisprudence, 172 medical students and 659 in the department of philosophy. There are in all about 1,115 women students, of whom the majority are in the philology and history departments. The record shows that many of the important professors have student daughters and that these do not, as a rule, aim to perfect themselves in the branches taught by their fathers. Among the representatives of the official class is the daughter of Dr. Reickes, mayor of Berlin, who has matriculated in the department for the study of German.

LAUS VITAE
Written on the Robert Browning Centennial May 7, 1912

(By Alice Biedermann.)
"The high proved too high, the heroic
for earth too hard,
The passion that left the ground,
To lose itself in the sky,
Are music sent up to God by the
lover and the bard;
Enough that he heard it once; we shall hear it by and by."
—From Browning's Abt. Vogler.

Beautiful thought of a poet's dream-
ing;
Beautiful hope in our human
need,
Verity ever beyond all seeming,
The lucid truth of a kingly creed.
To follow the faith, to feel un-
knowing;
If, in the battle we lose or win,
That truly somewhere, we reap our sowing
That surely sometime, our ships
come in.

Our ships come in, and they shall be
freighted,
With symphonies of our songs un-
sung;
All of the largess for which we've
waited
Joyance of youth and of age e'er
young.

Ambition noble, and high endeavor,
The passion holy, the pure desire
Not once our own, they are ours forever;
Unto the spirit a vestal fire.

Our eyes grow dim, but the thought
sustaineth,
Our sun goes down—there is still
the star,
Through night of doubt it alone re-
maineth,
Lighting our way to the harbor-
bar.

It is not vain, for by faith we near
it—
The winged ideal, that proved too
high,
The music lost—we again shall hear
it,
In all the beauty of by and by.

LA FOLLETTE PENS
VIEWS ON COURTS
Precedent and Procedure
Combined to Make One Law for Rich, Another for Poor

DEMAND FOR A CHANGE
Judiciary Will Be Brought Into Closer Relation
with Progressive Ideals

MADISON, Wis., May 30.—"Precedent and procedure have combined to make one law for the rich and another for the poor. The regard of the courts for fossilized precedent, their absorption in technicalities, their detachment from the vital, living facts of the present day, their constant thinking on the side of the rich and powerful and privileged classes have brought our courts into conflict with the democratic spirit and purposes of this generation."
This is Senator Robert M. La Follette's opinion of the courts. He makes known his views in the introduction to a book, just issued, entitled "Our Judicial Oligarchy," written by Gilbert E. Roe of New York, his former law partner in Madison. Senator La Follette continued:

"Moreover, by usurping the power to declare laws unconstitutional and by presuming to read their own views into statutes, without regard to the plain intention of the legislators, they have become in reality the supreme lawmaking and lawgiving institution of our government. They have taken to themselves a power it was never intended to exercise; a power greater than that entrusted to the courts of any other civilized nation. And because this tremendous power has been so generally exercised on the side of the wealthy and powerful few, the courts have become at last the strongest bulwark of special privilege. They have come to be constituted what may indeed be termed a 'judicial oligarchy.'"

Public Servants
Senator La Follette declared that the courts should have no more to fear from honest criticism than the congress or the president, because they are public servants. He says their acts are public acts that in any self governing nation neither courts nor their decisions can properly remain above and beyond the control of the sovereign citizens. He believes, he says further, that judges cannot perform their high function in the public interest unless they are made acquainted with public needs and are responsive to the public will. "Everywhere there is a growing demand for a change," concludes Senator La Follette, "that will bring the judiciary again into its proper sphere and into closer communion with the progressive ideals of this generation."

GERM LADEN DUST
CAUSES CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm Kills the Deadly Catarrh Germs,
No Stomach Dosing.

Catarrh, which is bad enough in itself, often results in loss of taste, smell and hearing, and leads to serious throat and lung troubles if not promptly checked. The seat of catarrh is usually in the back of the nose, and its natural course is downward, into the throat and thence to the lungs.

Don't take any chances. If you have any symptoms of catarrh—stuffed up feeling in the head, nasty discharge from the nose, sore throat, or dry, hacking cough, get a fifty cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and begin the treatment at once.

This remedy is not a "burning out" or "drying up" process. It is simply a cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm, taken through the nostrils back into the head and throat where it instantly reaches the seat of the trouble. That's the only way to effectually and permanently cure catarrh.

Catarrh makes you offensive to yourself and friends. Start using Ely's Cream Balm today, and in a short time you will be permanently cured of this nasty, disgusting disease. Agent O. T. Erhart.

MADISON, Wis., May 30.—(Special.)—The state of Wisconsin should engage in the colonization business in order to populate the 10,000,000 acres of undeveloped land in northern Wisconsin, in the opinion of Albert L. Williams of Louisville, N. Y. Attracted by the discussions in the press that Wisconsin might inaugurate a new land policy at the next session of the legislature, Mr. Williams came to this city yesterday and will spend several days here presenting his views to state officials on the state colonization plan.

In spite of reports and figures indicating that land will raise bumper crops, new settlers are not lured to this section, because they are not certain that they can make a success of farming, he said. He believes that the work of the immigration bureau does not go far enough. The state should step in, he declares, and bring the new settler from the city to the waste lands, furnish him with a temporary home until he can build his own, and by the aid of experts give him instruction in the clearing of lands and the producing and marketing of his crop.

"In such a project, the state would have in view the success and welfare of the colonies rather than the amount of money that could be gotten out of the land in the way of profits to promotion schemes," he said. "I think the state should create a communal fund and furnish these lands to settlers at little or no profit. Ordinarily large profits go to real estate owners and promoters, but if the state would properly finance this plan thousands of people would be glad to leave the cities and build up that new country. From an experience as a real estate man in selling suburban homes at industrial centers, I am convinced that there are hundreds of men who have saved $500 and upwards who would settle in a new country like northern Wisconsin immediately if the state were actively back of the scheme."

Mr. Williams believes that northern Wisconsin could be settled rapidly under this colonization plan. He is not favorably impressed with allowing real estate owners to handle these lands for individual profit.

Thank goodness, at last it's so hot we don't feel like working.

AT BIRTHPLACE OF DICKENS
Almost a Shrine, Where Many of the Hurrying Crowds Pause to Do Reverence.

A great signboard partly covers the little house where Charles Dickens was born. "Charles Dickens' Birthplace," it says, and all the hurrying world entering old Portsmouth pauses to look at it. The street, Commercial road, might be a street in any large city, and the house is no alien edifice in the vista of ugliness. A hundred years ago the traffic may have been quieter and the flowers in the front gardens not quite so dusty—a century leads us back such a very long road. In the spring of 1812 we picture Mrs. John Dickens, wife of the humble clerk in the navy pay office, bringing her baby boy—her first son—to the small windows for a glimpse of the London stage coach bound for the Portsmouth dockyard. Little did the tired mother think as she held him there that his life would one day affect some of the passengers on the coach, the people who walked or rode in the street, the thousands going about their business in Portsmouth and the tens of thousands upon thousands all over the country. Whoever made so many men laugh and weep as Dickens? What pen has opened the doors into as many lives? No heart has ever been closer to the facts of human life than that of the bearded boy who shyly winked at his Sam Weller and sent him forth with laughter that was to blow into a gale. On Weller's footsteps they come, those common and yet uncommon types he drew forth from the bone and sinew of Great Britain. The boy born in Commercial road was to be the apostle of everyday people, and the multitude of tradesmen he wrote of would make a trades' directory.—The Ladies' World.

Protestantism in France.
According to an article in the Revue the number of Protestants in France is decreasing. They now number 700,000. The Lutherans, who numbered more than a quarter of a million in 1870, can now boast of a membership of only 80,000 in France. The Calvinists are the most numerous sect left, numbering over half a million. But they are losing ground. At the same time the political influence of the French Protestants is out of all proportion to their numbers. This the writer attributes to their superior system of education, and above all to their great wealth. Their wealth has, however, tended to sap their exclusiveness. They now pay less attention to their religion, and the result is, says the writer in the Revue, that Protestantism in France will in the near future be a thing of the past. This is a rather bold conclusion, and it would be interesting to know if this alleged decrease in the Huguenots is correct.—Westminster Gazette.

NORTH DAKOTA BAD MAN SHOT

Desperado Attempts to Shoot Up Town, but is Given Bullet in Brain

FARGO, N. D., May 30. — The body of an unidentified "bad man" was brought here today from Buffalo, thirty-five miles from here, killed by a posse yesterday after an old-fashioned attempt to "shoot up" that village.

Yesterday morning the man, about 50 years of age, six feet tall and of a powerful frame, swaggered into a restaurant at Buffalo and after eating a meal refused to pay, replying to demands for the money by two bullets uncomfortably near the proprietor.

The desperado then made an attempt to force the house of State Senator Frank Talcott. Meanwhile a posse was being hastily formed, and led by George J. Nachtsheim, a former football star, the man was overhauled. The outlaw answered a command to surrender with a volley from his revolver, whereupon the posse opened fire. A bullet pierced the man's brain, killing him instantly.

EIGHTY DEAD IN HUNGARIAN FLOOD

BUDAPEST, May 30.—Confirmation was received today of great loss of life and property in the floods now prevailing in southeastern Hungary. Hundreds of homes of peasants have been demolished by the floods, out-buildings and stock carried away, and all growing crops ruined. The death list already reaches eighty, and it is feared this figure will be greatly increased when communication with the districts now cut off is re-established.

Man First Carved Woman.
A piece of stone, 18 inches high, on which is roughly cut in bas-relief the figure of a woman, is the oldest known representation of the human form. It was discovered by Dr. Lalanne in excavations in the grottoes of Laussel, France, and is thought to be 20,000 years old. Scientists believe that it came between the ages of the mammoth and the reindeer, when the artist would have used sharpened flints as tools.

Might be a good thing for both President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt to pause in their speechmaking and give the sweet girl graduate a chance.

SUPREME COURT IS PROGRESSIVE

Tribunal Has Smashed Records in Upholding the Laws Passed for the People

MANY CASES CONSIDERED

Attorney General and Assistants Are Deserving of Praise for Record Made

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 30.—With the April term scarcely under way, the Minnesota supreme court is smashing records in the number of cases of state wide importance decided in favor of the people, and upholding progressive laws passed by the legislature at the last session.

It has made possible a great boom in road building, sustained the right of people to frame their own charters, placed its restraining hand on a railroad corporation charged with operating $24,000,000 worth of company property for private gain, and stood by the Capital City in its contest with the traction system.

Charge for Wrapping Paper.
Yet to be decided are cases involving the right of a manufacturing company to charge the public the same rate for wrapping paper that is charged for foodstuffs inside the wrappers; the right of a packing company to color oleomargarine to resemble butter, and the right of the state to require railroads to transport militia at reduced rates.

Apparently the court is making effort to avoid technicalities and decide cases purely upon their merits. This intent is epitomized in a paragraph of the opinion written by Associate Justice P. E. Brown in the case involving the validity of the Mankato city charter providing for the commission plan of government. It said:

Legislature Represents People.
"We must not forget that the voice of the legislature is the voice of the sovereign people, and that, subject only to such limitations as the people have seen fit to incorporate in their constitution, the legislature is vested with the sovereign power of the people themselves."

Following along this principle, the court upheld the Elwell bill, conferring the right upon the people to build state highways, of which one-fourth shall be paid by districts benefited, one-fourth by the county through which the road passes, and one-half by the state. Then came the decision involving the right of the people to frame a city charter in which the mayor and members of a commission chosen to direct the affairs of the city, were given both legislative and administrative powers. The supreme court upheld it, pointing directly to the intent that "the will of the people shall govern."

"The supreme court is backing the state in its progressive legislation," said Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, who has made all the fights for upholding the progressive laws. "We are greatly pleased."

Mr. Smith is entitled to the credit for the Elwell road law victory and the Mankato city charter victory.

GAME BOARD IS URGED FOR STATE

Scientific Legislation Concerning Fishing and Hunting Is Object of Proposed Body

MADISON, Wis., May 30.—A new plan is being discussed among hundreds of fishermen of this state which if found to be generally favorable will be presented before the next session of the legislature. The proposed law would create a state fish and game commission to promulgate rules and regulations for the taking of fish and game. It would obviate, it is claimed, the enactment of thirty or forty local fish and game bills that come before each legislature.

The idea back of the proposed law is that the legislature has no adequate knowledge of fishing or hunting conditions in the state. It is unable to tell when game is plentiful enough to have an open season. All of this, according to the proposed plan, could be carefully and scientifically worked out in much the same manner as the industrial commission regulates the safety conditions for employees.

YOUTH, TIME OF ANOMALIES

Springtime of Life Is Full of Contradictions, But Is Great Flood of Energy.

How shall I describe Youth, the time of contradictions and anomalies? The fiercest radicalism, the most dogged conservatism, irreparable gayety, bitter melancholy—all of these moods are equally part of that showery springtime of life. One thing, at least, it clearly is, a great, rich rush and flood of energy. It is as if the store of life had been accumulating through the slow, placid years of childhood, and suddenly the dam had broken and the waters rushed out, furious and uncontrolled, before settling down into the quieter channels of middle life. The youth is suddenly seized with a poignant consciousness of being alive, which is quite wanting to the naive unquestioning existence of the child. He finds himself overpoweringly urged toward self-expression. Just as the baby, born into a great, blooming, buzzing confusion, and attracted by every movement, every color, every sound, kicks madly in response in all directions, and only gradually gets his movements co-ordinated with the orderly and precise movements of his elders—so the youth suddenly born into a confusion of ideas and appeals and traditions responds in the most chaotic way to this new spiritual world, and only gradually learns to find his way about in it, and get his thoughts and feelings into some kind of order.—Atlantic Monthly.

Locked Antlers in Glacier.

Mute evidence of a mortal combat that may have occurred centuries ago was revealed to J. K. Magnusson, a timber cruiser on the slopes of Mount Baker, says the Portland Oregonian.

Lying in the lower edge of Roosevelt glacier were the crumbling bones of a buck deer of more than ordinary size. Digging down into the ice the cruiser uncovered the remains of a second animal, the body in an excellent state of preservation. The antlers of the animals were tightly interlocked, showing that the deer had died in battle.

From the position of the skeleton and the body in the glacier, Magnusson is of the opinion that they had been carried a long distance down the mountain side. As the glacier flows only four or five inches a day the battle of the bucks may have occurred centuries ago.

Strange Things in the Wash.

The women are in such a hurry these days to get to their clubs that they are rather careless in wrapping up their family washing which goes to the laundry. Such articles as combs, brushes, shoe-buttoners, pocket knives, dishes and many other articles are quite ordinary finds in family washings. Recently an Erie laundryman rolled a poodle dog out of a family washing. Last week he found an alarm clock.—Kansas City Journal.

CAPITAL PAYS A TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Official Washington Holds Exercises to Honor the Heroes of Nation's Wars

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Official and civic Washington today paid tribute to the dead defenders of the nation. Congress adjourned, 35,000 government clerks were excused and all federal activities ceased.

At Arlington National cemetery, the principal exercises of the day, were held. President Taft and Senator Smith of Michigan, delivered memorial orations to an immense crowd in the amphitheater. Dozens of new graves in the Spanish war section of the cemetery were given special attention. Those of the Maine's sailors recently brought from Havana, were covered with flowers. The Marine band played a dirge at the tomb of the unknown dead, and over each of the 45,000 graves a grateful government had placed a tiny flag.

A parade of Grand Army and Spanish War veterans on Pennsylvania avenue preceded the ceremonies at Arlington.

At Mount Vernon, a wreath was laid on Washington's tomb, in accordance with national customs of the society of the Cincinnati.

'SPOONING' HEARD BY CITY SLEUTHS

Long Distance Telephone Talk with Woman Leads to Alleged Burglar's Arrest in Chicago

MILWAUKEE, May 30.—"Spooning" over the long distance telephone all day Tuesday with a woman living at 522 River street, while he was in Chicago, led to the arrest of Alfred C. Ryan, an alleged burglar, Tuesday night.

Ryan's wire became crossed with the Milwaukee police headquarters' telephone wire Tuesday afternoon while trying to reach the woman, and in this manner he was traced in Chicago. Detective John Shonar and Patrolmen Jesse Van Peterson and Walker Tak left Milwaukee immediately after the conversation and placed Ryan under arrest near the Union depot in Chicago, after he had greeted the woman who had just alighted from a train to join him in response to his message.

Ryan is charged with entering the room of G. J. Wareham, 249 Wisconsin street, on May 25, and escaping with jewelry valued at $2,000. When brought before Captain Sullivan at the police headquarters Wednesday morning Ryan admitted his guilt, the police say, and said that with the aid of a chisel he broke into Wareham's room above his saloon.

Two sons of Dayton were great men.

In 1896 shortly after Orville Wright recovered from an attack of typhoid fever, the two brothers began a study of flying methods. During the following three years they made several experiments with gliding machines, but were unable to make a glider that would support much weight until 1902 when they made more than 1,000 gliding flights at Kittyhawk, N. C. In the autumn of the following year, they made a machine that supported a man and sailed 300 feet. It had been more than 500 years since the first attempt at flight when the Wrights in 1904 successfully flew six miles in a motor propelled machinery. They knew that their ideas were right and they made few excursions into the air until 1908 when they made tests flights for the government at Fort Myers.

In that year Wilbur Wright made his first flight abroad. On August 8, 1908 he made a flight at Le Mans, France, staying in the air one minute and 46 seconds. Then a Frenchman claimed the world's record for time in the air by flying 29 minutes on one flight and 31 minutes on another. It was but a few days before Orville Wright ascended in a machine in the United States and stayed clear of the ground for 57.62 and 65 minutes in three successive flights.

Glider That Soars

The last and greatest accomplishment of the Wright brothers was to perfect a gliding machine that soars and sails in the face of a wind. It was constructed with a flying bird in mind and it was predicted by Wilbur Wright shortly before his death and by his brother, that motor ships were soon to be a practical institution. Two brothers during the last two years done no exhibition flying. They announced their retirement and the only flights they made were experimental. After successful experiments in heavier than air machines in this country the Wrights went abroad. Everywhere they were met by great demonstrations but were unspooled by hero worship.

Following a successful conquest of Europe, during which homage was paid to the Wright brothers by kings of several countries, they returned to this country and continued to solve problems of flying and to fight patents suits and injunctions through the federal courts, until today their patents are recognized over the world, and the Aero Club of America permits no infringement upon the rights of the pioneer successful flyers. Today no aviation meet can be successfully held without permission is first obtained from the Wright brothers. They did not abuse their control of the "air trust," however, and they gave permission to promoters of every meet that is sanctioned by the Aero Club of America.

Wilbur Wright was born near Millville, Ind., on April 16, 1867. His education ended after four years in high school at Richmond, Ind., and Dayton, Ohio. He was unmarried.

Remonstrance.

The stray bits of conversation one cannot help overhearing in public places sometimes are deliciously funny.

A conductor said, in tones of great severity, to a passenger who was making considerable disturbance on the car:

"Here, here, sir! Remember you are on a public vehicle and you must behave as such."

NEVER LACKED FOR SOLDIERS

How Japanese Forethought Supplemented Military Skill in the Great Struggle With Russia.

Brig. Gen. Robert K. Evans, says the Army and Navy Journal, told of meeting, just after the Russo-Japanese war, a friend who had been a military attaché with Oyama's army in the Manchurian campaign, and asked him what had been the most striking and noteworthy incident that came to his notice during the war.

His reply was: "Without doubt it was this: In the battle of Mukden I noticed a large body of troops on the field whose presence I could not account for from any information in my possession. I rode over and inquired who they were. I was told, 'These are the reserves sent from Japan to take the places of the men who will be killed and wounded in the next great battle.' And there they were on the field while the battle was going on."

'This is a most instructive incident, thought General Evans. Here Oyama lost in a great battle a certain number of thousands of men. The next day they were all replaced by an equal number of trained, instructed and disciplined men. The army was as strong numerically as before the fight. It had probably gained in efficiency by the practical experience of the officers and men who had been under fire and still remained in ranks.

Takes Divine Gift.
Whoever tenders a man alms takes from him the divine gift of independence.

A man was fined $25 and costs the other day for having a black bass on his person. Most people would gladly pay that much money to see a black bass.

ALL READY FOR BIG AUTO RACES

Twenty-four of the Best Machines Made Are Entered in Indianapolis Races

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—The stage was set yesterday afternoon for the running tomorrow of the American motor classic, the second annual 500 mile race of the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Twenty-four cars, the supreme triumphs in automobile manufacturing up to the present, were finally gone over, and groomed for today's grind. No cars were allowed on the two and one-half mile oval track after 10 o'clock yesterday morning. At that hour scores of workmen were set to cleaning the brick surface of oil and other foreign substances that have gathered from the three weeks' tryouts of the motor marvels. This was done in order that skidding and the possibility of accidents may be reduced to a minimum tomorrow. The little Mason car, with Lee Oldfield at the wheel, finally failed to qualify, being unable to make a lap in two minutes, at seventy-five miles an hour. The best car could do was to circle the track in two minutes and two seconds, although in practice spins it had made scores of laps in less than the required time. Fifteen thousand visitors arrived today to attend the race. Special trains will arrive from a dozen surrounding cities and neighboring states. Motor car parties from Denver and Detroit arrived here yesterday afternoon. Arrangements have been made by railroads and interurban lines to handle the throng of thousands which will be taken to the speedway grounds, which are four miles from the city. Traffic managers say they will be able to handle 25,000 people an hour.

SAILING SEASON OPENS

CHICAGO, May 30.—The sailing season officially was opened here today. Races were scheduled at three yacht clubs—Columbia, Chicago and Jackson park. Elaborate plans for the racing and the social features of the yachts have been made by all the local clubs.

BIG RACES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 30.—The trotting season will open here this afternoon at the West Side track. Thirty horses are entered in the events of the six race cards, and exhibition runs will be made by Willie Benton, 2:05 1-4, and Carlo, 2:09 3-4.

FAN-ATICAL FANCIES

Watson was handed his first defeat of the season in the Wisconsin-Illinois league Sunday, but it took them a long time to turn the trick on the former Outcast hurler. Watson won eight straight games for Oshkosh before a team was able to beat him, his initial defeat being by a 4 to 1 count.

The Chicago White Sox evidently have the Indian sign on the Harry Davis' Cleveland team for up to date the Naps have been unable to beat them.

Connie Mack's Athletics aren't setting the American league on fire yet and they aren't making any runaway race out of the pennant scramble. In fact they are in fifth place and are experiencing trouble in keeping up to the 500 mark. The White Sox are getting such a lead on the champions that Mack's tribe will have to make a hard uphill fight to catch up with the leaders. Meanwhile the fans are asking themselves whether or not the Athletics will strike their place at the head of the league as they did last year after the Tigers had a commanding lead over the rest of the teams.

Chief Myers of the New York Giants is experiencing somewhat of a slump in his batting average which was over .600 several weeks ago. However, the chief is still well up in the column and still finding the sphere with great regularity.

Chance took Ward Miller out of the game, put Hoffman back in center field and Vic Saier on first Tuesday, then the Cubs went out and won two straight games.

OUTCASTS LOSE TO EAU CLAIRE 6 TO 1

Nally Is Knocked from the Slab in the Eighth and Morse Takes His Place

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., May 30.—Brody pitched a steady game yesterday and Eau Claire won an easy victory over La Crosse by the score of 6 to 1. The La Crosse infield was crippled after the first inning and Morse had to play shortstop. In the eighth Nally was knocked out of the box and Morse went in. The races include five, ten and twenty-mile free-for-all events and mile time trials.

Mordecai Brown seems to be another pitcher who has struck his gait, the famous three-fingered hurler going out and beating the Cincinnati Reds 10 to 2 yesterday. Mordecai has pitched several games this year but up to yesterday his efforts to win were frustrated by his opponents as he was not pitching up to form.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

The season's record for runs was made in the Boston-Washington double header when a total of 52 was piled up. The Red Sox won both games. And the second game was called in the eighth at that.

Cleveland gave the American league leaders a shock by taking two games in quick order. The Naps' two pitchers, Kahler and Blanding, displayed both class and promise in yesterday's double clash with the White Sox. Chicago muzzed up the box score by sending in four pinch hitters.

The Tigers and Browns tried to stretch their game into a double header also, but the Tigers stopped it in the fourteenth. The Browns tied it up in the ninth, but the two Browns (E. Brown and C. Brown) pitching valiantly were unable to uphold their colors to the end.

This was bargain day. Baseball fans must everywhere were treated to double headers—except where it rained.

Although Palzer made out complaint against O'Rourke, showing that while he has earned large sums for the manager, he has not benefited, the commission was compelled to rule that it had no jurisdiction as the contract was made before it was created.

TONEY TOO SLOW FOR MAJOR LEAGUES

Fred Toney.

Fred Toney, who played with the Chicago Cubs last year, has been adjudged too slow for the major leagues. He is playing with one of the minor league teams this season.

Whales May Live 500 Years.
The land animal which lives the longest probably is the tortoise. Under favorable conditions it will live to an age of 350 or 400 years. One died at the London Zoo which was said to have attained the age of 350 years. The ordinary whale lives to be 500 years old. No other animal of the sea lives to be that old.

A Bas, This Cynic!
A Harvard professor probably has solved the problem of how to reduce the output of feminine conversation. He says they will be more beautiful if they keep still. Haven't we a good vacancy in our diplomatic service?
